UP CLOSE & PERSONAL

Speaker, Author, Teacher, Philanthropist are only a few words to describe Jotina Buck. She is no stranger to loss, failure, and hardship. Having lost both of her parents before age 25, she uses her story of losses and triumphs to encourage, evoke, and empower people of all genders and nationalities to see past their current circumstances. Jotina candidly shares her story of depression and restoration with people across the globe. Her life's purpose is to use her story of healing, wholeness and restoration through positive language to change the world. Jotina's unique ability to show compassion while catapulting individuals to move from emotional desires to practical actions is what sets her apart. This young scholar is trained in mind mapping, positive psychology, and even spiritual development.

Her intentional approach to extend vision boards from conceptualization to manifestation through mind mapping is intriguing and proven. Jotina believes that change must be fluid and she has the tools necessary to equip the world in effectively executing goals. Her philosophy for life change is in order to change your behaviors you must change your mind. In order to change your mind you must Change Your Language. This ultimately causes you to Change Your Life.
